

Don't be afraid in the Dark

(Helmut Huber)

How should you know, you've changed her life so much
And it was hard for her to accept reality
Her mind was struggled hard with doubts
But there was no way out – No chance for her to flee

Still unborn, weak and unprotected
But don't worry everything will be all right
You will raise her motherly love
And she'll always love you and be by your side

Don't be afraid in the dark
Don't fear the monsters in the night
Your Mommy will protect you
And she will be the light
She'll keep your dreams nice and clean
And she will always care
You won't ever be alone
Your Mommy will always be there

She will be there ...

With her magic she will conjure up a fairyland
And she'll tell you stories of a princess, who lives far away
She'll show you what's true and the difference between good and bad
She will always keep you on the right way

Don't be afraid in the dark
Don't fear the monsters in the night
Your Mommy will protect you
And she will be the light
She'll keep your dreams nice and clean
And she will always care
You won't ever be alone
Your Mommy will always be there

She will be there ...
